DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-10, drawn to a beverage container having valve assembly including a manual operated actuator mechanism, classified in class 220, subclass 715.
 - II. Claims 11-17, drawn to a beverage container having a valve assembly including a valve seat and valve member, classified in class 220, subclass 303.
 - III. Claims 18-22, drawn to a beverage container having baffle structure for inhibiting rapid flow of the beverage, classified in class 220, subclass 719.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are capable use without the other and they have different modes of operation and different functions. The invention I does not require valve seat, valve member and resilient gasket for providing a fluid-tight seal. The invention II does not require a manually operated actuator mechanism for opening and closing a valve assembly.

3. Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are capable use without the other and they have different modes of operation and different functions. The invention III does not require valve seat, valve member and resilient gasket for providing a fluid-tight seal. The invention II does not require a baffle structure for inhibiting rapid the fluid flow.

4. Inventions III and I are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are capable use without the other and they have different modes of operation and different functions. The invention I does not require a baffle structure for inhibiting rapid the fluid flow. The invention III does not require a manually operated actuator mechanism for opening and closing a valve assembly.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
